Desire for accessibility may make Daly City 'field office capital' in the state

BY JOHN CURRY
Post Staff Writer

No matter what North San Mateo County residents may think of their legislators, they cannot complain about them being inaccessible.

As part of that trend, Daly City soon may become the Field Office Capital of California.

The smallest-scale operation is that of County Supervisor Fred Lyon, whose supervisorial district encompasses much of the North County and Coastside. His district office was opened in a small office next to City Attorney Albert Polonsky's in the Daly City Civic Center May 1, 1977, and despite being open only one day a week, business is reported good — and productive.

Not far away, at 345 Serramonte Plaza, is the district office of Assembyman Louis J. Papan (D-Millbrae), and at 15 Southgate Ave. the south district office of State Sen. John Foran (D-San Francisco).

But the hubbub of national politics and issues soon are to be seen around the Civic Center, too.

New 11th District Congressman William H. Royer (R-Redwood City) will open a North County field office Sept. 4, sharing Lyon's quarters the other four days of the week, Monday through Thursday.

Tom Constantino, Royer's administrative assistant at the congressional district office in San Mateo, said some final details are being worked out now, but plans are for the Daly City office to be staffed from 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, as a convenience for North County residents who wish to call or drop by.

Will the North County people use it? If Steve Courter's experience is any indication, they will and they should.

Courter, a retired civilian welder with the U.S. Navy for 34 years and now active in several Daly City civic activities, has been the volunteer staffer at the Lyon office since June 1977, manning the office from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Friday.

Most of the business comes in by phone, either as requests for assistance or information, and has been helpful to constituents, because "I think we can bring more of the feeling (of North County people) down there (to Lyon's supervisorial office in Redwood City)," Courter said.

"It's amazing how many things we can correct in a year," he said, noting that on the average, a problem a week is resolved one way or another by referral to the proper county office.

The problems of unincorporated area residents are big ones to them, though hardly newsmakers, Courter pointed out.

There was a vacant Broadmoor home on which the garage door had been removed with the garage being used as a gathering place for juveniles, a situation the neighbors told him they considered hazardous.

A call to the county office building in Redwood City got the garage closed up, Courter recalled.

A local woman whose garage was being flooded every rainy season, because a too-small drainpipe down the street backed up called to ask for help. The proper size pipe has been installed, Courter said.

Neighbors of apartment houses have complained about overflowing garbage cans at adjacent apartment houses, a health hazard because they attract rats and insects.

Courter said of this little controversy that the neighbors and the county now are working together to get the landlords, some of them absentees, to keep their property cleaned up.

Questions about "the whole spectrum of county operations," including noise abatement, weeds, rubbish, parks, roads, and even some on state programs such as Medi-Cal come to him, Courter went on.

He feels many of these calls wouldn't have been made if there was nowhere locally to call.

Lyon, like the other supervisors whose districts are some distance from Redwood City, has a local number that will reach the Redwood City office, but that distance still is important to the North County, which long has had to endure an isolated feeling from the county seat.

"I especially feel good about helping people who have had problems for years and never could get what they needed because they were so far away. It's a 20-mile drive each way," Courter said.

"Through this office we have been able to solve at least part of any problem," he continued.

This is ample reward to a man who has made volunteer work his avocation. As chairman of the Daly City Clean Community Committee and a member of the city Personnel Commission and the Citizens Advisory Committee on the Daly City General Plan, he spends many long hours at night meetings. One day a week also is spent in volunteer work at his church.

Sometimes, he said, he wonders if it isn't almost too much volunteer work, yet he enjoys it, anyway.

But he always has been busy. During his career as a Navy welder, he was part of the crew that helped raise the sunken battleships and clean up the mess after the Pearl Harbor attack of Dec. 7, 1941.

They saved all the battleships except the Oklahoma and Arizona. The former was capsized completely at her mooring, but with some hull work they were able to attach cables to cranes at Ford Island and slowly roll her upright.

Determining that the ship was damaged beyond repair, she was sold by the Navy for scrap just after the war, and with her hull buttressed with additional steel cross-beams, she left under tow for the Bay Area for breaking up. But a storm caught the old battlewagon and her tow in the mid-Pacific and she sank.

The Arizona never was brought up because "she was too far down in the mud," Courter recalled.

Council moves ahead on park expansion

Planning for the new Lincoln Park expansion will begin soon under a contract approved by the Daly City City Council Monday night.

The $6,500 pact was awarded to Harris and Associates of Lafayette, working in conjunction with Singer and Hodges of Oakland, a firm specializing in planning of parks and recreation areas.

Harris and Associates was the winner from among five architectural and engineering firms which made proposals to the city recently.

The council Monday also took what it hoped were some final steps toward getting the area for the park cleared, cleaned and ready for building of the park, delayed for months because of difficulties with getting some old houses removed from the site.

Bids on the sale and demolition of the last house on the site, at 967 Brunswick St., were rejected and will be called for again.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky said the tenant in the home, who reportedly has been unable to find other housing, probably could vacate by the middle or end of September.

The council also continued a public hearing to Aug. 27 on a forfeiture of deposit on the sale of the house at 201 Templeton St., which was moved off the park site two weeks ago but the lot not cleaned up to the city's satisfaction under its ordinance.

Pete Pereira of Coast House Movers of Pacifica said he had moved the house, under contract to the owner, Alva Anderson, but that Anderson had told him he would clean up the remaining debris from the lot. Pereira said he would do it himself it Anderson didn't and could start Tuesday and have the lot cleared by the end of the week. The council went along with that.

In another matter, the council voted to extend the city's preferential residential permit parking area for another block, this time on a block of Shakespeare Street between San Jose Avenue and Rhine Street, about five blocks from the Daly City BART station.

Under this plan, now effective in most of the area around the BART station, parking is limited to residents only between 5 and 10 a.m., weekdays. It would effect perhaps 34 parking spaces on Shakespeare and it is estimated that 15 to 20 BART or San Francisco Muni commuters would be displaced, presumably to find parking on other streets farther away, according to a staff report.

The staff also wrote of its concern about "piecemeal" additions to the original preferential parking zone, saying it anticipated there may be more petitions from residents on other streets asking for the same consideration.

The Shakespeare petition, sponsored by the Original Daly City Protective Association, carried 22 signatures of residents of that block when it was presented this spring.

The preferential parking restrictions will become effective as soon as the signs can be erected.

In other business the council:

- Approved a memorandum of understanding with its police officers and sergeants, calling for a 7.75 percent pay increase and fringe benefit improvements for the year ending June 30, 1980 and clearing a 1.75 percent salary inequity for sergeants on the pay scale;
- Approved a subdivision tentative map of a 50-foot wide lot at 55 1st Ave. into two 2,500-square-foot lots in a multi-family district by Larry L. Forbes, 20 Miriam St., Daly City, for construction of two duplex units;
- Approved a minor home repair program by the county-sponsored Neighborhood Service Center, Inc., for repairs of up to 100 local homes at a cost of up to $150 each for residents who can't afford it themselves, despite some misgivings about the program conflicting with a Daly City federally funded program and about a potential need for Daly City to use its own program workers' time to inspect the work. NSC spokesmen said they didn't think this would be necessary, however;
- Renewed a yearly rental of city property at 252 92nd St. to the Sequoia YMCA of Redwood City for a youth diversion office;
- Okayed, for the last time, it was hoped, an increase of $40,000 to B. Fontana and Sons, Inc. for its work in converting the Mussel Rock Dump into a transfer station, to correct soil slumping. The total estimated cost of the project now has risen to $498,024, about the upper limit of the original $400,000 to $500,000 estimate, but now is about 96 percent complete, the staff reported;
- Approved plans and specifications and called for bids on a new heating system at the Guadalupe Health Center, using federal Housing and Community Development Act funds;
- Reappointed Sarah Kelecheva and Bianca Caserza to the city Library Commission. There were 11 candidates interviewed for the two seats.

2 policemen hurt in SSF battle

Two South San Francisco policemen were injured early Saturday morning as more than two dozen officers broke up a milling mob on the 500 block of Railroad Avenue, authorities reported.

Both officers had minor injuries after receiving blows to the head, allegedly from a South San Francisco man who later was charged with, among other things, assault and battery upon a police officer.

Additionally, as officers were clearing the area after making two arrests, the unruly crowd numbering about 100 threw rocks and bottles at officers. No officers were injured by the flying objects, although a number of patrol cars were damaged.

A call at 12:48 a.m. informed officers of a fight at the 500 block of Railroad, and when the first officers arrived two minutes later they discoved an initial crowd of between 50 and 60 persons, most of them young adults, gathered in the street.

According to South San Francisco Police Sgt. Norm Solari, it appeared there was a core of about a dozen persons involved in a fight in the middle of the group.

As officers approached, the crowd began to disburse. However, one man, later identified as Billy Tavake, 21, of 539 Yosemite Drive, South San Francisco, allegedly threw a blow at Lt. George Baptista, hitting him in the face.

Baptista was not knocked down, and as he attempted to subdue Tavake, the assailant broke lose and struck the officer again, this time knocking him down.

Sgt. Solari, going to Baptista's rescue, ducked a couple of punches thrown by Tavake. Then two other officers who had just arrived, Bill Osborn and Dave Castle, and Baptista succeeded — after a considerable struggle — in subduing Tavake while Solari kept the crowd back.

Solari estimated it took about a minute and a half to subdue the 5-foot-11-inch, 180-pound Tavake, who later told police he was a former Golden Gloves boxer now turned professional.

Tavake, in addition to assault and battery on a police officer, was charged with resisting arrest and disturbing the peace. He was booked in North County Jail.

Another man, Joseh P. Gutierrez, 20, of 222 B St., South San Francisco, also was charged with disturbing the peace and public intoxication after he allegedly failed to disburse when ordered.

Baptista and Castle were taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco where they were treated for blows to the head and later released. Tavake was taken to Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, where he was treated for injuries sustained in the fight prior to being taken to jail.

Police finally left at 1:27 a.m. after breaking up the party that had being going on prior to the altercation and clearing the area.

A total of 31 officers were on the scene. South San Francisco had 10 men there, while Broadmoor assisted with five officers. The California Highway Patrol had four men on the scene, and Colma, Brisbane, San Bruno and the sheriff's office each assisted with three men.

Officers said they were not able to ascertain what originally caused the fracas, and the incident is under investigation.

Seniors get help for their band

Senior citizens participating in the luncheon program at Lincoln Park Recreation Center will have their band for lunchtime concerts at least for another three months.

The Daly City City Council Monday night approved a $608 emergency appropriation to keep the band going, at $208 a month, until something can be worked out on financing the popular group.

The federal government has ruled out revenue-sharing funds to the band this fiscal year, Acting City Manager Ray Letsinger told the council, and that the band has gone this far on $870 in carryover money from the 1977-78 fiscal year, when revenue sharing funds could be used.

Ray Ward, director of the band, told the council he has "passed the hat" to raise some of the needed money, but that the band now needs more to keep going.

"There are 190 seniors participating in the program and they like the music. They look forward to such a program from week to week," Ward said.

The appropriating was made on the motion of Councilman James Tucker, who had brought the matter up at Ward's request.

PTA leader Schultz named to board after vote switch

Mrs. Betty Schultz of Daly City, a community PTA leader, was appointed to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees by board vote Thursday,filling the seat vacated by James Roman.

Roman resigned last month when his job took him to Sacramento.

Mrs. Schultz, of Skyline Drive, won by a unanimous vote in an open selection meeeting, but only after two straw votes by the four present trustees resulted in 2-2 votes.

Trustees George Robinson and Jane Powell voted for Mrs. Schultz and John Sloan and Ruth Boudinot cast their votes for Mrs. Frances McCullough of Pacifica.

But Sloan, after some discussion, then switched over to Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Boudinot went along to make the final vote unanimous.

Mrs. Schultz, a Daly City resident for 15 years, has been active with the PTA at various levels for most of that time and has been a recent regular at meetings of both the Jefferson High School and Jefferson Elementary School districts' boards.

She has been president of the Franklin D. Roosevelt and Benjamin Franklin PTA units, president of the Jefferson Council of PTAs and presently is treasurer of the Serramonte High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

She was seated on the board immediately, but by law may not vote for 30 days.

Mrs. Schultz said she plans to run for election to a full four-year term in November.

It's time to get immunized

As many as 28,000 school children in San Mateo County may not be properly immunized against contagious, life-threatening diseases as the 1979 school year approaches.

That's the warning sounded today by Cherie Stephens, public health nurse who is the county's immunization coordinator. Ms. Stephens' goal is to convince all parents to have their children immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and measles.

"It is just a terrible tragedy when your kids get one of these diseases and is crippled for the rest of his or her life," Ms. Stephens said.

Her message to parents: "Be sure to see that your children are immunized and that they have the record to prove it when your children return to school in September."

Local school districts are preparing to suspend students who are not properly immunized — either on the opening day of school or shortly thereafter, Ms. Stephens said.

Last May, she noted, Jefferson District suspended 700 pupils from schools in Daly City and Colma after the students failed to provide proper immunization records.

State law requires the immunizations, and the tougher measures are being started at local schools as part of a nationwide campaign to curb the diseases, Ms. Stephens said.

Although local health officials are pushing the tougher enforcement, they're also making it easier for people to comply with the health law.

Free immunizations are offered at six county clinics and Ms. Stephens said parents should telephone the Department of Health and Welfare to find the clinic nearest their home. Once an appointment has been set, "it only takes a few moments to get the immunization done," she added.

Parents who don't bother with having their children immunized run the risk of ending up with "children who are really sick," warned Ms. Stephens.

"There are children here who have contacted these diseases and they have become very ill — measles can last 10 days." She added that the diseases can also cause blindness, deafness and mental retardation.

Worse yet, the diseases can kill. "One in 10 of the youngsters who get diphtheria dies," she noted.

"But if children get immunized, they won't get sick — and that is the name of this game."

In addition to the required immunizations, Ms. Stephens said, health officials highly recommend that children also be immunized against the mumps and rubella (German measles).

According to a recent study, about 77,000 students enrolled in public and private schools here have been properly immunized, Ms. Stephens said.

However, proper immunization records have not been recorded for about 28,000 students. That's not to say all 28,000 have not been properly immunized, Ms. Stephens said.

She added that the specific number of non-immunized students is not yet known because health records at many schools "are pretty sloppy."

The federal government launched a nationwide campaign to increase immunization after health officials discovered fewer children were being inoculated during recent years.

"I think immunization had fallen off because parents just weren't paying enough attention and many parents thought these diseases had pretty much disappeared," Ms. Stephens said.

Another problem is that our society is becoming more transient, she added. "People are moving around a lot and they don't have a regular physician and regular checkups.

"There are people who take their children to the doctor only when they are sick, and when they are sick they cannot get immunized."

San Bruno Mountain cleanup project set

"What do rare butterflies and busted TV sets, Buckeye flowers and dumped shopping carts, refrigerators, bed frames, old clothes, and broken glass have in common?" asks the publicity flyer.

"All can be found on different parts of San Bruno Mountain," it says in answer to its own question.

The message is that there will be a massive cleanup of the mountain Aug. 17-19, sponsored by San Mateo County and a number of local groups, including the Commitee to Save San Bruno Mountain and the Daly City Clean Community Committee.

Included will be free lunches, songs and bus trips up and down the mountain, courtesy of the San Mateo County Transit District.

Cleanup will begin at 9 a.m. each day. Participants should wear heavy-soled shoes and long-sleeved shirts and take dirty gloves.

More volunteers are needed for the cleanup effort, dubbed "Mountain Revenge 1979."

Signups for those interested are at John F. Kennedy School, at Price Street and the Guadalupe Canyon Parkway, Daly City. More informatioh may be obtained by calling 467-2145 or 364-5600, ext. 2486.

In addition, two beer companies have offered to pay higher rates than usual for recycled aluminum picked off the mountain or donated to the anti-litter effort.

Persons who wish to donate their recycled aluminum to the project may drop it off at Coors West, 890 Broadway, Redwood City, at Matagrano's, Inc., at 610 Quarry Road, Belmont, or leave it with volunteers who are cleaning up the mountain this weekend.

FRIENDS OF THE MOUNTAIN

Mary's Help Hospital Guild plans meeting

Mrs. Jane Hillman will preside at the first fall meeting of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild at noon Friday.

After the summer respite, it will be business-as-usual for the guild members.

The Tray Favors Committee, led by Mrs. Virginia Hupf, will meet at 10 a.m. to create favors to enhance patients' trays, and members of the executive board will assemble in the conference room at 10:30 a.m. to discuss the coming year's plans.

Luncheon will follow the regular meeting, and members may wish to take advantage of the social portion of the day to speak to Mrs. Virginia Stanghellini about the autumn trip to Reno.

Present plans call for a bus to leave the hospital's parking lot at 8 a.m., Sept. 18, for an overnight junket to Reno. Price of the trip is $36.50 each.

•

Members of the Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica are planning an eastward trip too.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, trip director, has arranged an Aug. 21-22 overnighter to Crystal Bay and Incline Village on Lake Tahoe's northeastern shore. Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg is in charge of reservations.

Members of the Friends of the Library in Daly City were among the fortunate who enjoyed a recent tour of Butterfield and Butterfield Co., for a preview look at many works of arts and numerous antiques.

Taking advantage of the chance to see the collection awaiting auction were Mrs. Kathryn Jovick, Mrs. Frances Windhurst, Mrs. Cecilia Enright, Mrs. Frances Fischer, Mrs. Virginia Tierney, Mrs. Lorraine Sandefur, Mrs. Elaine Butler, Mrs. Frances Lee, Mrs. Alice Barichievich, Mrs. Marilyn MacDonald, Mrs. Denise Schwarzbach and Mrs. Jane Williams.

•

Reservations are being accepted by Mrs. Eileen Winter for the American Association of Retired Persons, Daly City branch, Sept. 11 picnic.

The president, Milton Locke, is arranging car pools to carry members to the Coyote Point picnic area, and he says he is anxious to hear from persons with cars, as well as from members who will require transportation.

Mrs. Lorraine Von Krakau Berto is seeking information on the whereabouts of members of the Spring 1939 graduating class of Balboa High School, San Francisco.

An alumni committee is arranging for the class' 40th reunion, and class members and friends/relatives of members of the class are urged to contact the alumni office at the high school, 1000 Cayuga St., San Francisco..

The reunion will be held Sept. 29 at the South San Francisco Elks Club.

7 in supervisor race

By RICK SULLIVAN

Seven candidates have qualified to appear on the Nov. 6 election ballot to vie for the 4th District seat on the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, according to County Clerk Recorder Marvin Church.

The candidates will compete for the position left vacant by Bill Royer when he was elected to Congress last April.

The winner will complete Royer's term which expires Dec. 31, 1980, but must run in the June 1980 primary election if he or she wants to retain the seat for a full four-year term.

Those who filed nomination papers by Friday, the deadline for submission, were:

- Larry Armstrong, 176 Duane St., Redwood City, who will list himself on the ballot as a "tax reform executive." Armstrong recently resigned as the executive director of the Governmental Research Council, a business and industry advocate group.
- Mario Biagi, 31 Spinnaker Place, Redwood City, a city councilman and businessman.
- Clifford Boxley, 2615 Fair Oaks Ave., Redwood City, who will list himself on the ballot as an "urban/regional planner." Boxley is the director of the Probe Community Center, an East Redwood City anti-poverty program.
- Phyllis Burton, 1830 Stockbridge Ave., Redwood City, a registered nurse.
- John C. Cooper, 1235 Jefferson Ave., Redwood City, a deputy sheriff.
- Nancy Jewell Cross, 1902 Palo Alto Ave., Menlo Park, who will list herself on the ballot as a "people advocate."
- Arlen Gregorio, 424 Clinton Ave., Redwood City, who will list himself as a "California Cities advocate." Gregorio was defeated by Republican Marz Garcia last November in his attempt at a second re-election to the state Senate. Gregorio recently resigned as a consultant to the League of California Cities, working mostly in Washington, D.C.

All the candidates reside within the 4th Supervisorial District, which comprises Redwood City, Menlo Park, East Palo Alto and Atherton, but they will appear on a countywide ballot.

San Mateo County is a rarity in the state in that it does not elect supervisors by district.

Cooper, Mrs. Burton and Miss Cross were among the first candidates to file their nomination papers, bearing the signatures of campaign supporters. Biagi handed in his papers on Thursday, Armstrong on Friday.

Gregorio was the only one of the seven hopefuls who was able to gather enough voter signatures — at least 2,473 — to escape paying candidacy filing fees of $618.02.

Five candidates collected enough signatures to reduce their filing fee. Miss Cross was the only one to submit no signatures. She paid the full filing charge.

Gregorio's surprise announcement last month that he would campaign to succeed Royer forced several hopefuls, who had intended to run, out of the race.

Campaign contribution statements filed for the period through July 31, revealed that Biagi and Armstrong had collected the most money.

Armstrong has received a total of $2,350 including $500 each from Ronald Ozenbaugh, a certified public accountant from Merced and James Kemper, president of the Kemper Insurance Co.

Biagi reported collecting nearly $11,000, mostly in small donations. Contributors included Redwood City Councilman Bill Stangel and Robert Spillers, a Redwood City planning commissioner.

North County represented at fair

Many North County residents have been honored in various competitions at Fairworld '79, the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta.

Mary Garbarino of San Bruno took a first place in the junior casserole competition, and also was awarded a ribbon for the best use of pasta.

In 4-H categories, Missy Rodgers of South San Francisco received first prize for her rabbit in the "beginning showman" category.

Another rabbit-raiser winner was Sandy Wall of Pacifica. In the "junior showman" category, Dolores Di Martini of Pacifica took second place.

Mrs. Fay Borg of Millbrae placed first in the sweepstakes for the adult clothing and textiles competition, while Ruth A. Molinda of San Bruno took third.

In the agriculture sweepstakes judging, David Pucci of Pacifica took third in bulbs, root and tuber vegtables.

Earlier winner, Mary Garbarino of San Bruno, won an award for best use of oranges or lemons in the microwave category.

At the annual poultry/rabbit auction, Elaine Welch, 13, of the San Bruno 4-H, received $18 each for the three grand champion meat reabbits she raised: Two New Zealand White does at 3 pounds, 14 ounces and 4 pounds, 1 ounce, and a New Zealand White buck weighing 3 pounds, 15-ounces.

The Rodgers girls from South San Francisco's 4-H made a great showing, with Missy, 10, winning $23 for each of her grand champion chickens, weighing 6 pounds and 4 pounds, 12 ounces; Mary, 13, capturing the grand champion and reserve champion turkey categories, with a 21-pound hen that sold for $70 and a 29-pound tom at $68.

STUDENTS WHO LEARN STEP BY STEP GET TO THE TOP.
Step by step learning is vital to the success of any student. At the Independent Learning School, step by step learning is part of a highly individualized program in which involved teachers provide each student with immediate and continuous feedback concerning his progress. With only 12 students in a class, ILS teachers are able to arrange each student's program to assure progress and avoid any possible gaps in learning. The combination of individualized instruction, small classes, and step by step learning helps ILS students realize their fullest potential. It's a surefooted way to the top.
ILS is a private, coed school for grades 6-12. The ILS curriculum stresses basic academics and college preparatory subjects. Because class sizes are small, enrollment is limited. Please call soon for more information.

Preserving the mountain

Sam Chandler

One day, as I wandered along Guadaupe Parkway, I looked up to see Mount San Bruno thrust its head above the muffler of fog that it wears in the early morn.

"What a sturdy mountain," I thought, with its peaks unconquered although they have been scarred by earthquake and storm. It has a lesson to teach us of exerting strength, however pricked and troubled.

I noticed the brush on the mountain evergreen, fading not as the seasons of the year pass by, glowing with an inward strength to lend to the men and women who live at the mountain's feet.

I gazed at the wild flowers with their heads erect but so high and proud as to be withered by the elements tha play upon San Bruno Mountain. The craftiest man could learn a lesson from these wise blooms, I thought.

While in this frame of mind I recalled the words of the psalmist: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence comes my help," and these words from the Psalms as well: "The mountains shall bring peace to the people and the little hills righteousness."

Then I noticed the awful lines of motorcycle trails scarring the mountain's face. I shuddered, for I have seen such ugly roadways strung along he majestic Sierras and through the wonders of Yosemite. I recall seeing motorbike and jeep trails in Yellowstone Park and along the delicate Oregon coast and near the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. In all the country there seems to be no protection from the thrill-crazed riders who force their fiery hogs across the mountain tops and through lands that have been acclaimed for their beauty.

Something must be done!

Something must be done about litter on San Bruno Mountain as well.

In one spot I found an abandoned mattress and furniture. I thought of the battles to preserve San Bruno Mountain that we have fought and wondered where the polluters were and how they voted.

I also thought of a sentence I had heard a National Park guide speak: "Leave nothing but footprints and leave them as lightly as possible."

As we think of San Bruno Mountain we must récognize that it is part of the national, state and local parks that Michael Frome calls "the core of our hope and heritage."

Frome wrote, "Above all, it is the sense of feeling that counts — the sense of public responsibility that is needed. The parks grow more precious with the years, the understanding and support of an enlightened and self-respecting people."

Let us not allow San Bruno Mountain Park be ruined at the very outset of its existence.

Help wanted

DAY CAMP — Volunteers 15 years and over are needed 9:45 a.m.-3:15 p.m. to assist handicapped campers in a daytime outdoor recreational camp at Coyote Point Park during Session two (Aug. 20-31).

SUICIDE PREVENTION — The Suicide Prevention and Crisis Center has scheduled its next training Sept. 8 in San Mateo, Training lasts five weeks and is afforded to volunteers after preliminary interviews. Volunteers must commit themselves to one four-hour shift per week for one year. Shifts are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.BIG SISTERS — Women interested in befriending a young girl are needed by several awaiting Little Sisters.

COMMUNITY FOOD — A community volunteer program is looking for volunteers/members for Cooperation Food Club, Neighborhood Gardens, Food Stamps and school meal advocacy. Activities vary from public presentations, gardening, outreach counseling to bookeeping, food buying, social service agencies and contacts. Members also benefit from selected food and better nutrition practices at lower prices.

YWCA — Day camp counsellors are needed in San Bruno to assist with recreational activities and outings for children ages 8 to 14. Training is available. Help also is needed to answer phones, light typing and general office.

In North County districts

Free or reduced meal programs

Three local school districts have announced their policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

The districts involved are the Jefferson Elementary School District, the laguna Salada School District and the Jefferson Union High School District.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility:

	FREE MEALS AND FREE MILK	REDUCED PRICE MEALS
FAMILY SIZE	MONTHLY GROSS INCOME	MONTHLY GROSS INCOME
1	$0 to $ 383	$ 384 to $ 597
2	0 to 503	504 to 785
3	0 to 624	625 to 973
4	0 to 745	746 to 1,162
5	0 to 866	867 to 1,350
6	0 to 987	988 to 1,539
7	0 to 1,108	1,109 to 1,728
8	0 to 1,228	1,229 to 1,916
9	0 to 1,349	1,350 to 2,104
10	0 to 1,470	1,471 to 2,292
NOTE:	Add $121 for each additional family member.	Add $188 for each additional family member.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals or reduced price meals. An extra one-half pint of free milk is available to those who are eligible for free meals.

In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child and disaster or casualty losses can apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school.

The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct.

An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify dhe information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children also are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, the family should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

If parents are dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, they may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis.

If they wish to make a formal appeal, they may make a request either orally or in writing to the superintendent's office for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application.

Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operaton of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Each school and the office of the district has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

Viewing the phylum arthropods

By ARVILLE FINACOM

The few adults scattered among the children seemed as interested as they in the furry creature resting on a folded towel in the docent's hand. Few had ever seen a live tarantula much less one as close and as colorful as "Betty," the Mexican red-legged mascot and star performer at San Francisco's new Insect Zoo.

Actually, the name "insect zoo" is a simplification. Although the 26 species represented all belong to the phylum arthropod — animals with jointed feet and external skeletons — there are centipeds, sowbugs and members of the spider family like Betty on display along with such true insects as termites, crickets, moths, ants and beetles.

The exhibit, which opened officially in June and is the only one of its kind in California, is housed in Shoong Auditorium inside the Children's Zoo at the ocean end of Sloat Boulevard in San Francisco.

Ten-gallon terrariums provide the living creatures with attractively designed miniature habitats closely approaching conditions in their natural homes.

The tanks are grouped into three major divisions: Plant eaters, scavengers and predators, to give visitors a chance to understand the animals in relation to others in life's complex web.

Neat cards printed "Name, Address, Dangerous?" and "Fun Fact" provide easily-read information at each display. For "sowbug," "address" says "worldwide," "dangerous?" is answered "no" and the "fun fact" says "closely related to lobsters, shrimp and crab."

In consideration of the size of most visitors, exhibits are not placed too high. A stand-on bench is provided for the very small. The eye level contact provides opportunity for interesting responses.

Recently I spent an hour watching wide-eyed youngsters discover the wonders of a living world whose creatures are much smaller than they.

It could be this fact of miniaturization that leads children more naturally than adults to pick up and examine the creeping and the crawling, to try to catch butterflies and moths between their fingers, and to wonder at the whirring hum of flies and bees in flight.

Zoo volunteers, many of them pre-adolescents, wearing large identifying badges, answer questions eagerly about the zoo's inhabitants. Three times daily — at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. — there are special presentations. Facts are related and questions answered. Tarantula Betty is introduced along with darkling beetles. The latter, a common local "bug," leads a relatively long life and makes an excellent small pet which can be handled and cared for quite easily, even by a pre-school child.

The idea for the insect zoo grew out of adult understanding of children's natural curiosity about insects and other small creatures.

Because such curiosity sometimes leads to dangerous results for both child and animal, the insect zoo was established to meet the need through somewhat directed learning experiences.

Sherry Bridgman, Insect Zoo director, acknowledges it as a pilot project which developed from her teaching work with children about insects for the last five years.

A year ago Ms. Bridgman organized the "Bug Club," which meets for two hours (10 a.m. to noon) the second Saturday of each month. Members pay a small fee, then participate in activities designed to help them understand and appreciate the varied roles of insects and their relatives.

Perspective

Most people pay little attention to insects except for those identified as "good" or "bad." Honey bees and ladybird beetles fit into the first group; termites, wasps and mosquitoes are "bad."

Farmers, of course, recognize far more "bad" ones, including grasshoppers and weevils, pests they try to eliminate. But they, along with scientists, are beginning to realize the enormous adaptability of the insect class in its rapid development of progeny resistant to chemical pesticides.

Scientists recognize, too, that in the co-evolutionary view of things, a study of insects can tell us a great deal since they've been around longer than humans.

Consider: The first ones, silverfish and springtails, evolved with the amphibians some 350 million years ago.

Cockroaches were contemporaries of the great reptiles.

As flowering plants developed, so did bees, ants and wasps. It also is mind-stretching to realize that there are three million insect species, possibly more, and that five out of every six living beings on earth today is an insect.

There are two other areas in the Children's Zoo devoted to ecological awareness. San Francisco Wildlife Rescue, which cooperates with the U.S. Department of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service and the California Department of Fish and Game, maintains space in which injured and orphaned native wild animals are cared for.

Bubbles

Spiders breathe underwater by carrying a bubble of air between their legs.

INVESTMENT SEMINAR WORKSHOP
We realize that trying to get through these inflation years with your savings intact is difficult, at best. For instance, if you had your money in a passbook savings account last year, you lost money to inflation. Through NOR-CAL's investment seminar workshop, we'll show you how you can stop losing money and start earning 10% or more return on your invested funds.
Among the points that will be covered in the seminar-workshop are:
■ How to increase your yield to above 10% ■ Why Savings and Loans invest heavily in trust deeds ■ How large or small an investment you can make ■ How to choose a brokerage firm ■ How to avoid a "guaranteed loss" investment ■ The safety aspects of trust deeds ■ The compounding factor of trust deeds ■ Much, much more

Parents! Your child's first job could make a difference!

Look around. Some of the most successful people you know were once newspaper carriers! There's a good reason for that. Being a carrier is more than a first job . . . it's an unforgettable learning experience. It teaches young people how to use their time wisely . . . to handle money . . . to deal with different kinds of people. It gives them feelings of confidence, pride and accomplishment for handling an important responsibility reliably and well. And what's more, it's fun! Carriers get the chance to win great prizes and exciting trips and share experiences with other young people their own age. So why not talk to your son or daughter about becoming a newspaper carrier? A small part of each day can make the difference of a lifetime.

The salmon are running

Text by Heidi Van Zant

The salmon are running in Pacifica and it seems that everybody wants one.

An average of 200 people on a weekday are fishing off the municipal pier in Sharp Park and the horizon is flecked with many boats in search of the elusive fish.

"There's a lot of fish out here today," pier ranger Ray Cook said Thursday. "Last year was the first year that it came in good."

Young and old fished side-by-side, bundled up in sweatshirts and coats. The talk on the pier was not of the big one that got away, but the big one that was caught.

One smiling 23-year-old joyously pointed to the hefty salmon she had just caught.

"My first time," she said with a huge grin.

On the other side of the pier, Joe Debono was having a heck of a time with the salmon he had hooked. The fish would not tire out and the net he was using was too small.

When Ranger Cook walked over to lend his help, a crowd soon gathered to watch who would win: man or fish. With the help of nearby fishermen who shouted instructions, Debono caught a 25-pound salmon that was the envy of everyone around him.

"Isn't that a beauty!" exclaimed one excited woman, giving her young son a push into the throng to look at the flopping fish laying on the pier.

Cook expects the salmon will be running until late August or early September. He said fishermen also have been catching striped bass and halibut.

Because it is a municipal pier, a license to fish is not needed.

Although the boats are out early, the pier was crowded into the late afternoon. Cook said the best time of day to fish "depends on the birds, the fish and the bait."

Ending the confusion over the McLaughlins

This week's column was originally intended to be another one of those Giants' critiques.

But I've decided to forego any such deep analysis for the foreseeable future because the Giants have been critiqued out and I really don't think there's anything I can tell them that management and players don't already know. And if they don't know, they're not the professionals they're billed as being.

So let's all leave them alone for a while to brood in peace. Perhaps meditation or prayer or simply solitude will do them more good than us harping on the obvious.

Meanwhile, there's a substitute column to write, and what better time to do one of my periodic public service pieces, one of those ideas that hangs around the shelf between the in and out file for months and then is usually forgotten when its season runs out.

In this case it's an informational item which can be appreciated only by those fans (and perhaps even a few announcers) who are totally confused over the identity of all the McLaughlins bouncing around major league baseball.

Last year, during one of my slow periods, I straightened out the conglomerate of Cruz's in the big leagues, and there were actually a few readers who were grateful. So here's with the McLaughlins.

To begin with, unlike the Cruz's, none of the three McLaughlins are related. Also, unlike the Cruz's, they all, by some phenomenal coincidence, play the same position — pitcher — which makes them more confusing. And two of them play on the same team, and that is REALLY confusing.

The McLaughlins who pitch for Atlanta didn't start the season as an entry. Michael, better known as Bo, started the year with Houston. At 25, he is two years older than Joey (which is his real name, and not a contraction of Joseph), taller (6-5 to Joey's 6-2), though not much heavier (210-205), and a native of Oakland. Joey is from Tulsa, and they both throw right handed.

Bo has been around the majors a little longer, having broken into organized ball in 1975 with Columbus of the Southern League, out of David Lipscomb College in Nashville.

Le Pacini

He hit Houston for part of the season the next year, being promoted from Memphis of the International League, and did primarily long relief work even though he had been a starter in the minors.

He posted a solid 4-5 record with a 2.85 ERA for a weak team. As a short reliever the next year, he was 4-7, 4.24, his season hampered by being on the disabled list for a month in early season. He started last year with Charleston in the International League, and finished with the Astros in short relief, going 0-1, 5.09.

Joey broke into professional baseball out of high school in 1974 with Kingsport of the Appalachian League, but didn't get to Atlanta until 1977, coming up from Richmond of the International League, where he had been a starter with only moderate success.

At that, he was in only three games for six innings, in which he allowed 10 hits and 10 runs. He spent all of last season with Richmond as a starting pitcher and had a mediocre record. So now he's back as a reliever and doing a pretty decent job in that capacity.

Byron McLaughlin, 23, also is a right hander, and is slightly built compared to the Atlanta McLaughlins, at 6-1, 175. He pitches for Seattle. A Californian (Van Nuys), he's always been a relief pitcher in the minors, with basically indifferent success.

But he escaped to the Mexican League in 1977, hooked on with Nuevo Laredo as a starter, and posted an 18-13 log with a 1.84 ERA and a league leading 221 strikeouts. That impressed the Mariners, who purchased him.

He got in one inning of work with Seattle in 1977, allowed four runs, and last year was farmed out to San Jose, then of the PCL, where he pitched well enough as a starter for a mid-season call-up last year, where he did long relief and a little starting, with a 4-8, 4.37 ERA.

Byron, incidentally, was signed out of high school as a hitter, and spent his first year in the minors (West Palm Beach, Florida State League) as a designated pinch hitter. And hit .313. But the next year, at Lodi in the California League, he became a pitcher.

Don't forget, incidentally, that there also is a right handed pitcher named Lynn McGlothen. He, of course, is the former Giant who was traded to the Cubs last year for Heity Cruz.

Now, have you got all of that straight? Good. When I think you're ready to handle it, I'll give you a history of the Mays, of which there are currently five.

* * *

Sudden, unrelated thought. Has a baseball player ever retired in a better blaze of glory than Sandy Koufax did in 1966? All he did was go out with a 27-9 record (his most wins ever, the most wins in the league), the league's leading and his lowest-ever ERA of 1.73, the league's leading strikeout total (317), as well as a leading 27 complete games in a league-leading 41 starts and a leading five shutouts, in a league-leading 323 innings.

* * *

Some baseball trivia:

If you're enthralled with seeing the light, you probably know that the first night game in major league baseball was introduced by Cincinnati. But do you know of the second stadium to install lights?

Well, it was Brooklyn, who played the second night game in the big leagues on June 15, 1938. it was a double historic night, because it was also the occasion of Johnny Vandereer's second consecutive no-hitter.

And, aside from the Cubs, who still haven't done it, do you know the last team to install lights? It was Detroit, which didn't get around to playing a home night game in Briggs Stadium until 1948.

You know, of course, that it was Larry McPhail who "invented" night ball for the majors, but you know that the colonel also installed the first stadium club, promoded the first old-timers game, issued the first season tickets, and installed the first scoreboard to give scores of other games in the league?

And while you might have known that George Halas was a switch-hitting shortstop-outfielder who batted .091 in a total of 12 games for the Yankees in 1919 as their right fielder before he broke his ankle and retired to football (his place was taken by a kid pitcher from Boston named Babe Ruth), I'll bet you didn't know that George, who also played a few years of minor league ball, was probably the first player of whom a scouting report read, "Can't hit with either hand."

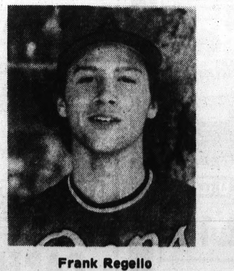
Halas never did quite get away from baseball, though. His first T-Formation quarterback was a little guy who later became a big league baseball player and fabled baseball coach and manager — Charley Dressen.

Doing a little more mixing of football with baseball (and don't the seasons over-lap?), it isn't true that Reggie Jackson is the only athlete to ever have a candy bar named after him. Red Grange did, too. It was a really original called the "Red Grange Candy Bar."

And now that you all know about the first baseball games played under lights, you might as well know that the first NFL football night game took place on September 15, 1937, between Washington and the Giants.

It also marked the first game played in Washington after George Preston Marshall bought the club and moved it from Boston, and it was the pro debut of Sammy Baugh. Washington won, 13-3.

Daly City Flying Goose in state tourney



Frank Regello

SAN RAFAEL — Saturday it was the pitching of Jeff Dietrich. Sunday it was the hitting of Calvin Peters and just about everyone.

Now, for the Flying Goose Joe DiMaggio baseball team of Daly City, it's on to Fairfield Wednesday for the annual DiMaggio state tournament.

Flying Goose advanced into the state's Final Eight by sweeping both ends of a weekend doubleheader from Bank of Marin Joe DiMaggio, based in San Rafael. Flying Goose won 2-0 Saturday at Marchbanks Field in Daly City, then clipped host San Rafael 11-4 across the bay Sunday to take the best-of-three regional playoff series in two straight games.

Flying Goose, champion of the Peninsula league, opens play in this week's eight-team, double-elimination state tournament Wednesday with a 2 o'clock contest in Fairfield against Ravenswood of Palo Alto. The tournament is scheduled to conclude Sunday.

Dietrich, the recent Serramonte High graduate ticketed for University of San Francisco via a baseball scholarship, struck out seven San Rafael hitters and walked one. Don Spiliotius also pitched brilliantly for the visitors, fanning nine Flying Goose batters and walking one. Both moundsmen yielded three hits, two of them singles.

But Flying Goose did-in Spiliotius with a two-run rally in the bottom of a decisive second. Catcher Greg Eagleton led off with a walk — the only free pass Spiliotius would issue, but a very costly one. Then Don Feblowitz of Skyline College followed with the biggest hit of the game, a 385-foot triple to left field that scored Eagleton. A sacrifice fly down the left field stripe by Doug Price than brought Feblowitz across to make it 2-0.

Feblowitz, infielder Greg Funk and pitcher Frank Regello played for opposing Peninsula teams during the league season, but are currently playing for Flying Goose because DiMaggio rules state that the championship team, after finishing with its league play, can pick up three opposing league players for post-season games.

Sunday's contest was close until the top of the seventh when Daly City scored five big insurance runs to turn a precarious 6-4 edge into a commanding 11-4 bulge. The big blow came with two runs in and one man out. Jefferson High's Calvin Peters rocketed a three-run double to right, breaking the game wide open.

Stuart Ramirez contributed a 3-for-3 effort at the plate to the winners' cause, and shortstop Dave Maxion had two RBI's.

New Cypress House unique landmark

The CYPRESS HOUSE in Half Moon Bay, one of the really unique landmark restaurants on the coastside, recently re-opened under the new ownership and management of HAEKUN CHOI, who brings a distinguised background in food and beverage experience, including executive responsibilities at the Hyatt Regency, San Francisco. The new food and entertainment policy is drawing raves from those who have visited the new restaurant. Open seven days a week serving lunch and dinner, with brunch on Sundays. Live entertainment and dancing on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. ... Sports fans dining at PHIL LEHR'S Pay-By-Ounce Steakery, on the lower level of the S.F. Hilton Tower, were quick to recognize all-time basketball great Wilt Chamberlain feasting on a huge, 26-ounce New York steak.

From the minute they opened the doors of their little Italian restaurant in Charter Square Shopping Center, Foster City, DOMONIC'S was a hit with breakfast, lunch and dinner patrons. Specialties include Italian sausage and roast beef, or a combination of both on French roll with au jus dip. Or try their special Italian burger grilled with onion and melted mozzarella. Everything is home made from only strictly fresh ingredients. Open from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. ... Although TILLIE'S famous "Family Night" family-style weekly dinner specials on Wednesday nights ($4.29) and the Sunday morning Breakfast Special ($2.50) get much attention at her TILLIE'S 'LIL' FRANKFURT restaurant in Moss Beach, other authentic home cooked German specialties are also served. Sauerbraten and Noodles with Sweet-sauer Red Cabbage and Weiner Schnitzel with potatoes and vegetable, to mention a few ... Records of the 40s and 50s are played on the Wurlitzer juke box in the lounge at LA PINATA Mexican restaurant, Burlingame. The rare collection of 45s include Cal Tjader, the Andrews Sisters and Dinah Washington ... Like everything else he does, flamboyant ENRICO ROMANO gets creativity into various house specialties at his ROMANO'S restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Where else would you find a Veal Cutlet Sandwich?

As a connoisseur of fine wines as well as French cuisine, ROGER NICOLAS, chef/owner of the sophisticated French restaurant LA POTINIERE in downtown San Mateo, constructed a separate wine cellar in a step-down room right in the middle of the restaurant. His extensive selection of vintage wines is kept at controlled temperature to avoid endangering their delicate quality and taste. Reservations are required for lunch and dinner, which avoids overcrowding and enables proper attention to service ... Looks like DAVE RAPKEN and JOHN COPPOLA have a king-size hit on their hands with their new Monday night Big Band Dance Party at BIANCHINI'S in Daly City. It's been SRO, as overflow crowds flock in to dance and listen to the exciting Big Band music of the JOHN COPPOLA and CHUCK TRAVIS all-star orchestra. And with Bianchini's six-course Italian dinners priced at just $5.50, you have all the makings of a great evening out at a very sensible price ... The menu at GONG'S Chinese restaurant in South San Francisco is four pages of just about any kind of Cantonese and Mandarin Chinese food you could ever want, plus a variety of American dishes. Six different combination Chinese dinners are featured, starting as low as $3.10 per person, and each offers an extensive choice. All can be enjoyed in the restaurant, ordered to take out or to be delivered ... Attention to every detail is assured at the intimate OLD COUNTRY INN, in Burlingame, as Owner NATHAN SCHMIDT does all the cooking. He draws upon extensive experience in Europe and New York, as well as San Francisco before opening this charming restaurant. His gracious wife MARILYN serves as hostess and attends to the service. They are known for several specialties, but perhaps most notably for Nathan's own exclusive recipe for salad dressing ... The clam chowder served at VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant is made according to a secret recipe, which gives it an inimitable flavor and makes it one of the most popular attractions at this landmark restaurant. As an extra service to patrons, this exclusive clam chowder can be purchased in pints and quarts on Fridays at Vince's Fresh Seafood Depot, located next door to the restaurant.

LEHR'S GREENHOUSE in San Francisco is a discovery for gourmets on a budget. Superb dinners such as Shrimp Creole New Orleans, Roast Rack of Baby Lamb and Chicken a la Kiev are priced from $6.95 with Lehr's famed gourmet salad bar included ... It's been extra-busy at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB in San Francisco these nights, with crowds of theatergoers flocking in to enjoy dinner before catching the hit comedy, "Chapter Two," at the Curran Theater across the street. The cast has made Rosebud's their "official" dining headquarters, stopping by almost nightly for a late supper after the final curtain ... If you've been among those who have admired the oil paintings and profusion of indoor plants that decorate ALFREDO and MANUEL ROJAS' ALFREDO'S Italian restaurant in downtown San Mateo, you'll be interested to know they are all for sale. The paintings are on consignment from the California Fine Arts Society, and are changed periodically ... Any day can be a special day for lunch at BAYHILL LOUNGE in Bayhill Shopping Center, San Bruno. There's a "daily luncheon special" each day in addition to the regular menu of soups, salads, sandwiches, steaks and much more. On Fridays, there's clam chowder and filet of sole. Lunches are served Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dancing nightly. The NEW TRI-SOUNDS provide live entertainment for dancing on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. ... It's more than just loose terminology when you see the list of "Seashore Dinners" on the menu at NICK'S restaurant at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Situated at the very edge of the seashore, Nick's offers a panoramic view through picture windows while guests dine on such delicacies as Grilled Abalone Steak or Pan-fried Eastern Oysters or any of several other dinner choices, which include soup, salad, vegetables, potatoes and garlic bread. Also located on the ocean's edge and operated by the famed GUST family, NICK, LORRAINE and son CHUCK, are THE MOONRAKER and CAPTAIN CHARLES ... JERRY LYERLA held a big party last Saturday in celebration of the first anniversary since purchasing his JOHN'S PLACE in downtown Burlingame ... ALAN DOTE offers great music with audience participation, Wednesday through Saturday nights, at the custom-made pianobar at JIM SNIADECKI'S SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S ... RAY PLUNKETT'S TAHOE MARINER hotel/casino, formerly the North Shore Club, is located across from Stillwater Cove, an exclusive condominium unit at North Lake Tahoe. Late item: Friends and patron of the OLD COUNTRY INN will want to know that the reason NATHAN and MARILYN SCHMIDT will temporarily close their Burlingame restaurant from August 19 is because of illness in the family. They express appreciation to everyone for consideration of the situation.

THE DIET CORNER

By Elise Gendar, the Diet Workshop

If you've a back-to-schooler on your hands, have you:

- Had a dental check? Lots of districts are omitting in-school dental examinations because of austerity budgets.
- Scheduled an eye examination? Now's a good time.
- Checked out your child's foot size? Barefoot summers hide growing feet.
- Thought about school lunches?

For those of you who are lunch-packers, let me urge creativity in the lunch box department. You're helping your child set habits for the rest of his life so packing a school lunch that's nutritious, bright, and fun to eat is a logical first step on the long journey.

Elementary school kids adore bright lunch boxes. They dote on gimmicks — painted napkins, colored plastic spoons, favorite foods. And a special treat is a note from you — something that says "Hi! Hope you're enjoying the lunch and the day!"

Once in junior high and high school the familiar brown bag is cool. But it still requires nutrition, lots of it, to keep up with growing bodies. Check out the oferings in your school cafeteria. If they're not up to good nutritional standards, work with the PTA and the school nutritionist to bring them up. In the interim, plan on doing-it-yourself.

Some hints for safe lunch preparations. Always wash your hands before you pack the lunch. If food is kept in a locker, freeze the lunch. The thawing time will keep it safely cool. Or freeze small cans of juice as refrigerants. Hot foods should have their own containers. Never use sandwich bags twice — little scraps left behind can cause growth of bacteria that contaminate food.

What to pack? I suggest a novel and tasty sandwich filling like:

EGG SALAD

1 hard boiled egg mashed with 3 ounces of cottage cheese, mestard, horseradish and lettuce piled between 2 slices of whole wheat bread.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Hearty, old fashioned vegetable soups have been popular in family eating since Grandma's days and before. But grandma probably didn't realize that her vegetable soup was a source of fiber.

Fiber refers to food that is not digested by our bodies. Although fiber is usually found in coarse foods like whole grains and seeds, it also is available in fruits and vegetables.

This old-fashioned Vegetable Soup has an exciting combination of whole kernel corn, diagonal-cut green beans, potatoes, celery, tomatoes and small early peas combined with ground beef in a rich broth.

OLD-FASHIONED VEGETABLE SOUP

1 pound ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup diced raw potatoes
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup sliced celery
2 16-oz. cans whole tomatoes, cut coarsely
5 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon basil, crushed
¼ teaspoon thyme, crushed
1 bay leaf
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 Tablespoons instant beef bouillon
1 7-oz. can vacuum packed golden whole kernel corn, undrained
1 8½ oz. can diagonal-cut green beans, undrained
1 8½ oz. can small early peas, undrained

Brown the pound ground beef with the one cup onion until meat is slightly browned; drain.

Add the one cup each potatoes, carrots and celery, the two cans tomatoes, 5 cups water, one tablespoon salt, fourth teaspoon each basil and thyme, one bay leaf, fourth teaspoon pepper and two tablespoons instant beef bouillon. Simmer 30 minutes or until raw vegetables are tender. Add the canned corn, green beans and peas; continue heating 5 minutes.

Makes 11 cups.

REAL MEAT VALUE!

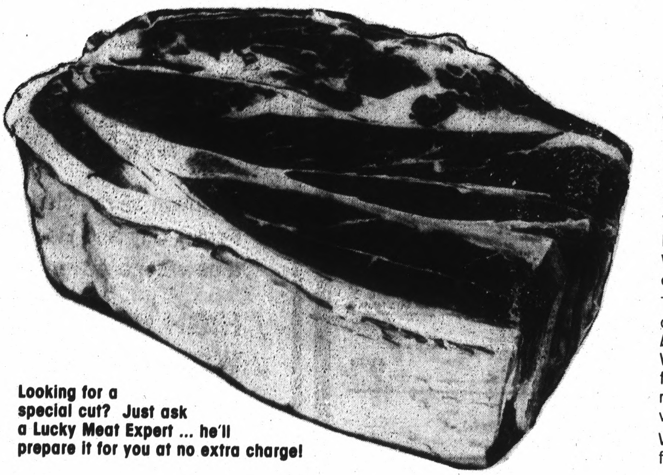
... Lucky Has It!

Meat Prices are Coming Down!

And that's good news for shoppers and meal planners, because Lucky immediately passes the savings on to you.

You'll find over 200 cuts of meat, fish and poultry at your neighborhood Lucky Discount Supermarket ... and all of them at Lucky's low everyday price.

But one cut of meat is the most important of all. It's the one you choose to put on your dinner table. It has to be lean and tender ... juicy and full of flavor ... a cut above the rest.



Looking for a special cut? Just ask a Lucky Meat Expert ... he'll prepare it for you at no extra charge!

You Pay Only for What You Eat!

Even though Lucky gives you some of the leanest prices in town, we know that real meat value is more than just a lower price per pound.

What's really important is the cost per serving.

That's why Lucky trims the excess bone, fat and waste before it's weighed or priced. We call it Valu-Trimming. And for you, it means more edible meat per pound — and more value.

When it comes to more meat for your dollar — Lucky Has It!

When it comes to quality, variety and value...Lucky is the only Supermarket you need!

Pair face charges in photo booth thefts

Foster City police say the arrests Friday of a young woman employee of the Fotomat film developing company and her boyfriend may have solved the burglaries of some 20 of the company's booths throughout the county during the past two months.

Booked at county jail on burglary charges by Sgt. Stan Hagiperos and Detective John Kiramis were Diane Cecile Stone, 19, of 380 Shad Court, Foster City, and Michael Steven Martinelli, 18, of 3265 Los Prados, San Mateo.

According to Lt. Greg Cowart, Miss Stone was arrested at the Fotomat booth in the 400 block of South Norfolk Street, San Mateo, where she was employed.

Not only did the arrests of the pair apparently solve some 20 Fotomat booth burglaries from Pacifica to Redwood City, but also two burglaries of Miss Stone's parents' house on July 24 and Aug. 9, Cowart reported. He said some $10,000 worth of loot was taken from the Foster City home.

According to Cowart, about $1,500 in cash and some $2,000 to $3,000 worth of film stolen from the foto booths were recovered. He reported that Foster City police began probing the film booth burglaries while investigating the burglaries at the home of Miss Stone's parents.

Because Miss Stone was an employee of the film-developing chain she knew how to get into the booths, generally located at shopping centers, Cowart reported. He said that five burglaries between July 10 and Aug. 9 in Foster City alone were solved by the arrest of the pair.

Robert Mayer to head GRC

Robert Mayer, of San Mateo, will be the new executive director of the Governmental Research Council.

Mayer will replace Larry Armstrong, who resigned Aug. 1 to campaign for the open 4th District seat on the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

ACCEPTABILITY: The Times reserves the right to reject, censor and properly classify any advertisement.

THE FIRST WORD of each 8 point type ad will be spelled out. Abbreviations will be accepted on the first word in 12 point or larger type lines. However, any ad that does not begin with an alphabetical character will not be in alphabetical sequence.

DEADLINE: Classified advertising must be placed by 12:00 noon day preceding publication, Monday through Friday, 12 noon Saturday for Monday's publication and 48 hours preceding holidays.

CANCELLATION: Cancellation orders must be received before 3:00 p.m. on the day preceding publication for all line advertisements appearing in The Times from Tuesday through Saturday and before 12 noon Saturday for Monday's publication. Display Classified must be cancelled in writing 48 hours prior to publication date.

ERRORS: No responsibility is assumed by publisher for errors in any advertisement covered by order, nor for the omission of any advertisement in whole or in part, nor for failure to comply with the placement of advertising as ordered either as to frequency or volume. In no event shall publisher be liable for special damages or consequential damages even if it has been notified of the possibility of such damages.

Errors in published advertisements must be reported immediately; and if done, publisher will publish an appropriate correction and where publisher deems it necessary a rerun of the advertisement as corrected, if in publisher's judgment the error substantially varies the meaning of the advertisement as ordered. Such corrections will be made only as to those advertisements which are ordered for one insertion, and as to the first insertion only when ordered for more than one insertion.

LUXURY AT OCEAN COLONY

It's rare that you will find a home that combines the elegance, amenities and financing of this one. Located in the heart of the lovely Ocean Colony community, immediately on the golf course, this features contemporary drama in a soaring two storey entry and dramatic living room. (Wait until you see the 25 ft. high nickel-plated fireplace and chimney and the built-in sofas!) Off the living room, separate dining, wet bar, stereo cabinetry and a thrilling greenhouse-windowed garden room viewing to the fairways. Dream kitchen with everything including trash masher and microwave and inviting breakfast room. Now for the hobbyist: not one but two separate rooms ideal for workshop, art studios, etc. Built-in vacuum cleaner, burglar alarm system, three car garage with automatic openers. In the bedroom wing a sumptuous master suite with den and fireplace, double dressing room closetry, and an elegant master bath with mammoth shower, double basins and sunken tub. All this opens out to a private, walled Jaccuzi spa. Master suite can be expanded to two studies by using adjacent guest room and bath. There's more: upstairs four bedrooms and two baths grouped around a family/sitting room with a sweeping view of the Ocean! We could go on but you should see this if you want country club living and elegance. PLUS there is an assumable $300,000 loan and we will take your Peninsula home in trade. Just listed $445,000.
